Housing price trend indicators for Miami's coastal mainland showed mixed results, fewer sales with more supply. Median sales price increased 6.3% to $255,000 from the same period a year ago. Average sales price followed a similar pattern, up 2.8% to $378,114 over the same period. The single family market generally outperformed the condo market in both prices and sales. The median sales price of a single family increased 8.9% to $294,000 and the median sales price of a condo rose 2.4% to $215,000 respectively over the same period. The number of single family sales fell 13.9% to 1,876 and the number of condo sales fell 16.1% to 2,225 respectfully from the year ago quarter. However a large portion of the decline in condo sales was attributable to the drop in distressed sales activity. Distressed condo sales were down 41% over the same period yet there was no decline in the single family distressed sale market. The market patterns observed in the overall market were also seen in the luxury market, defined as the top 10% of all sales. The median sales price of a luxury condo sale fell 13.6% to $950,000 while the median sales price of a luxury single family sale increased 2.3% to $1,125,000.
